Formal Education

Bsc Software Engineering, 2006 - 2011 Kenyatta University, Nairobi, Kenya.

Professional Experience:

Allied Technique

Nairobi, Kenya Android Developer Programmer, 2010-2011 Learnt, developed and maintained Android applications. Analyze code for system testing and debugging. Also worked as an application tester.

Twigahost Web LTD

Nairobi, Kenya Web systems developer, 2011 - 2015 Developed and maintained company and client web systems. Learnt to configure servers, sell hosting space, manage web domains and web security considerations.

FREELANCE 2016 - to present day.

I have been working with clients from different nationalities as a backend and API developer. During this period, I have developed, reviewed and maintained complex web APIs, collaborated with remote and in office developers and clients from different world regions. I have worked at different time-zones and used various developer tools. From Bitbucket for git code repositories to communication tools like Slack, Skype and GoToMeeting. I have also used collaboration and project planning tools like Trello, Asana, Jira, Basecamp etc.

I have so far learnt the need for effective communication, giving timely project estimates, team effort and working with clear and sometimes unclear project requirements (See attached comments from previous clients). Have also mastered the craft of learning new skills quickly as demanded.

I seek lengthy project engagements involving my current or relatively new development skills (I learn fast).

WORK SAMPLE:

My latest project:

It's a money lending business management web software. Developed on Laravel at backend and REST API. Angular 8 for the frontend. It uses Oauth 2.0 for token based authentication. It connects to two external APIs 1. Bulk SMS (Africa's Talking). 2. Bulk loan disbursement and member deposit processing, both via Mpesa. (Safaricom Mpesa).

Teach me Git (currently I am a novice)

★★★★★ 5.00 Jul 2014

I couldn't have asked for a better developer to help me become an expert in using Git. I contracted a few developers for this job and Kevin was the only one who had both a) English Proficiency and, overall, good communication as well as b) really seemed to understand Git. I can definitely speak to his professionalism* responsiveness*
excellent communication*  his knowledge of Git*
Although he did not do development for me in this particular job, I would definitely give him a try due to the above skills and ,specifically, the keenness that his Git knowledge showed.
